Lawrence Says Khrushchev's Mentality Seen at U.N.

Election Year May Be Opportunity For Red Action

BY DAVID LAWRENCE WASHINGTON - Is the danger of a world war being increased by what is happening at the United Nations in New York

The speeches at the general assembly use high - sounding phrases about "peace and disa: mament," and there are frequent references to the need for a "reduction of tensions." But the stark fact stands out that one man - ruth less, capricious, arbitrary and volatile in temperament - can at a moment's notice order a huge military operation to start a small war or a big war on any continent.

Nikita Khrushchev is giving the world a demonstration of the power of his dictatorship over tens of millions of people. He is also giving an exhibition of how he exerts a coercive power over a group of so-called "neutralist" nations which do his bidding. Khrushchev is still being considered by too many people as merely a bizarre individual who is endeavoring to restrain a war-like Red China and is anxious to maintain peace. But Adolf Hitler. who was also something of a showman, was able to convince many people inside and outside the allied governments in the 1930's that he, too, wanted only

A Hurricane

The mentality of a Khrushchev is scarcely different from Stalin. who, in the midst of apparently friendly negotiations with the West in the summer of 1939. made an alliance with Hitler that enabled the latter to start World War II. Expediency of the moment usually governs the impulses of a dictator.

The world has been watching Khrushchev since he broke up the "summit" conference at Paris last May. What was hoped would be a passing storm turned out to be the beginning of a diplomatic hurricane, with frequent changes in direction but no loss of intensity. Instead of negotiating seriously with the West, the Moscow dictator has threatened and bludg-

He has rendered futile all conferences or commissions which previously had been started with the idea of setting up some temporary arrangement to prevent another world war.

The Soviet premier has unwittingly managed to unite the western leaders, but he is nevertheless playing a bold hand. He is convinced that the United States has already repudiated President Eisenhower and is ready to administer a resounding defeat to the present administration at the presidential election next month. Coming to the United States in the midst of the political campaign, the Soviet dictator is undoubtedly taking seriously the many speeches made by prominent Americans declaring that the defenses of the United States are weak and that the Washington leadership has been so poor that American prestice has diminished throughout the world.

Upper Hand

Nikita Khrushchev would naturally feel that he has the upper hand and that, if he provokes a crisis, the government here will feel powerless to take stern measures therein.

In the month between new and the presidential election, it is unlikely that the Soviet leader would take precipitate action, but can it be safely assumed that he would exercise the same restraint on the trouble-making side in the period between election day. Nov. 8. and inauguration day. Jan. 200 If there is to be a change of administration here, would this be the time that Nikita Khrushchev might select to create a crisis of major preportions!

No government with a parliamentary system would hold an election under similar circumstances but would tend to postpone it until times were calmer.

To people abroad, the coming election hangs on an issue well known throughout the world - a vote of confidence or a vote of no confidence in the existing government. Nikita Khrushchev is deeply interested in the American election contest. It could give him a cue for his big moves in 1961. (Copyright, 1960)

Tesher told members of the Appleton Lions Club there are three basic causes of tension in the Middle East, all of them related to each other and the world situation in general.

The first, Tesher said, is the antagonistic view taken by Arab leaders on the future of Arab nationalism.

Wants Royal House

"Nasser of the United Arab Republic regards himself as the leader of the Egyptian nation. the Moslem nation and the African world. He sees the UAR as a country stretching from the Persian Gulf to the Atlantic Ocean and from the Mediterranean Sea to Equatorial Africa."

Some of the Arabs in this area would not mind such a federation, Tesher said, but there are divergent views.

Young King Abdullah Hussein of Jordan would like to have the Arab countries gathered under his kingship and reestablish the royal house. Premier Abdul Kassem of Iraq regards Iraq as the leading Arab country because of the pure Arab blood of the people. In Lebanon there is a struggle to preserve the balance between Christian and the non-Christian elements, since there is the feeling that one side must dominate the other. Tesher said.

Power Struggle The people of these countries are not permitted to gather and crystallize their thoughts into action, Tesher declared, and the result is subversion that leads to assassinations, closed borders and blockades.

The second factor that causes tension in the Middle East is the cold war. The leaders of the Arab states, although they may proclaim neutrality, are using the struggle of the two great world powers to their own ends.

Tesher said. Nasser's desire to stockpile arms for an attack on Isreal led to his political "entanglement" with the Soviet Union. Tesher charged. The attack on Israel developed after the U.N. set up the boundaries of Israel and the UAR in 1948. Israel was satisfied and the Arab Republic was not. Tesher said.

He added that at present the Soviets are trying to set up a power bloc in the Middle East.

Arab Attack These political entanglements caused the "premeditated confusion" in the U.N. general asassembly. Tesher said.

The third cause for tension is the fact that the Arab nations don't recognize the existence of Israel or consider it a stumbling block to Arab unity.

After the five Arab armies attacked Israel and were defeated. and the Arab boundaries were pushed back, the Arabs then wanted to use the U.N. agreement of Here's the car that reads vou loud and clear -the new-size. you-size 61 Chevrolet. We started out by trimming the outside size a bit (to give you extra inches of clearance for parking and maneuvering) but inside we left you a full measure of Chevy comfort. Door openings are as much as 6 inches wider to give feet, knees and elbows the undisputed right of way. And the new easy-chair seats are as much as 14% higher-just right for seeing, just right for sitting.

Once vou've settled inside vou'll have high and wide praises for Chevrolet's spacious new dimensions (in the Sport Coupes, for example, head room has been upped as much as 2 inches, and there's more leg room, too-front and rear). Chevy's new trunk is something else that will please vou hugely-what with its deep-well shape and bumper-level loading it holds things you've never been able to get in a trunk before.

Yet, generously endowed as this car is with spaciousness and clean-etched elegance. it holds steadfastly to all the thrifty, dependable virtues Chevrolet buvers have come to take for granted. Your dealer's the man to see for all the details that make this sensationally sensible '61 Chevy a new measure of your money's worth.

There's never been a trunk like it before. The floor's recessed more than half a foot and the loading height is as much as 1012 inches lower.

Wisconsin and the Medical Aid Bill

The new medical aid for the aged bill, passed by Congress in its hasty summer session and signed into law by President Eisenhower in September, is being attacked from all sides. Democrats, including Gov. Gaylord Nelson, insist it doesn't go far enough. President Eisenhower and other Republicans are reported as unhappy about it because it goes much further in handing out federal grants than anything previously.

Actually the bill was written and introduced by a Democrat. Sen. Robert Kerr of Oklahoma, and perhaps it is no coincidence that his state gets a beautiful slice of cash from the involved percentage ratios and means of figuring aid. Basically the bill is divided into two parts, one for the aged now receiving state relief funds, and the other for the medically needy who are not on relief but who may need money for heavy medical bills. States with a low per capita income receive federal grants as high as $4 for every $1 the state provides. If the states have been conducting a healthy aged program, spending about $12 per-aged person getting assistance, they may find themselves with a nice bonus which can be spent on anything. The states which really get the windfalls are those, like Oklahoma, with a low per capita income on the national average but who have been running an extensive assistance to the aged program. In all fairness, perhaps, those are the states which deserve the cash but it is not at all certain that they need it.

Obviously the highest percentage of federal funds, as compared to that put up by the states, will go to the southern states where per capita income is lowest. But this isnores the fact that expenses, even medical expenses for the aged, are lower in the south, too. These states will get more money and it will go a lot further.

The bill also ignores the Republican stand, as reiterated by President Eisenhower last January, that states should be encouraged to play a larger, rather than a smaller, part in such programs. Instead this bill would seem to place many states in a position of reliance upon the federal government for services previously provided at state level. The state money will be channeled into other areas and those programs never will be abandoned either.

Nevertheless the bill now is law. Gov. Nelson has said it is a fraud and that he will not encourage or assist the state to take advantage of its clauses since it would only pay, in federal funds, that which Wisconsin already is doing. But we must wonder how much of this talk is sound figuring and how country has increased rapidly during the past 20 years, largely because more people

what a person with normal vision can see at 200 feet. In addition to those legally blind persons there are 1.5 million persons blind in one eye. Using a different definition of blindness, the U.S. National Health Survey

says that almost 1.000.000 persons in the United States cannot read ordinary newsprint even with glasses. And it has been estimated that over 100,000,000 persons require some form of visual care, such as cor-

Blindness Increases Among the Aged

The number of blind persons in this that more than half of the blind population much is political tomfoolery because Sen. Kennedy's bill, incorporating a medical aged plan in the Social Security system, was not accepted by Congress.

According to figures released by the Department of Health. Education and Welfare. Wisconsin can receive more than $2 million without putting up a penny for aid to those already receiving welfare assistance. This money then could be used for any purpose the legislature wished. If it is put back into a more expanded program for the medically needy not now on relief, the federal government would send us matching funds at a ratio of 54.6 per cent or something more than a dollar for a dollar. Congressional Quarterly estimates that, if Wisconsin puts most of that $2,770,000 back into medical needy uses, we still would have almost $300,000 left over. Does Gov. Nelson think there is no need to help the sick aged with low incomes in the state? Or has he suddenly joined the ranks of those who want to be independent of Washington and refuse all federal grants in order to maintain our state's rights? Somehow this isn't consistent with his point of view.

The federal bill certainly is not an exceptionally good one, either from the point of view of equally helping the aged and ill or in encouraging the states to expand their programs themselves. Louisiana, for instance, stands to receive more than $12 mil-Iton in federal funds for the first part of the program, about half of which will be a bonus since Louisiana now spends about $6 per person on assistance per month as compared with the national maximum of $12. By putting only $48,000 of this $6 million into a program for the medically needy, Louisiana can get $123.000 more in federal funds. The state would come out with an over-all bonus of more than $6 million that probably won't be used for the aged or ill at all. All that money will come, of course, from the states with high incomes which furnish the federal government with the big percentage of tax revenues.

This newspaper has argued in the past against this type of pump priming which in reality ties the states even more closely to the purse strings of the federal government. If Gov. Nelson represented a party which had consistently opposed such grants. it would be easier to sympathize with his stand in refusing to take part in the federal medical plan. But it appears that he is playing pure politics this time. And Wisconsin taxpayers will pay the freight to Washington without dipping into the gravy — even for our medically needy and aged.

The candidates haven't bothered to explain how they propose to get the additional money, at a time when the treasury is going to be distressfully empty and the demands from a thousand other directions will be piling up. But the resort lobby presumably is satisfied. Both of the candidates for the office which is in charge of the budget have been nailed down.

THE BACKGROUND

No doubt there is some politics involved in these anxious representations. The two parties could have gotten together last winter to provide more money for state advertising, had they a mind to do so. But everybody else in the community gains also, and so does the state treasury which reacts to the general economic health of the business within it, as these tourist caterers never fail

It also is unfortunate that the image of the resort lobby is one that pictures upper Wisconsin. when in fact the resorts and other vacation caterers in southern and central Wisconsin, in such communities as Wisconsin Dells and the Koshkonong district, and even Door county, intercept many of the tourists on behalf of the industry that long before they get to Winter or Lac du Flambeau. The original wants more state tax dollars to tourist promotion subsidy was a kind of concession to the far north many years ago when legislators and governors realized that the state treasury would have to rescue the cut-over in one way or another, and that it would be wiser to help it to help itself.

THE NEXT STEP

Significantly, while there is an evident disposition to grant more promotion money for the benefit of th. vacation trades, there also is appearing a critical attitude toward the spirit of the industry itself. The present day tourist has the means and the appetite for first class service and accommodations. He is a highly mobile person. There is mounting evidence that the resort industry as a whole has been blind to such changes in the market and that some of the clamor for tax help is an easy substitute for initiative in the improvement of accommodations and in the adjustment

We were interested to read that Terento house builders were give a second look at the "eld-fashioned" two-story house a ne≤lected residential form since the post-war swing to bungalous and split-level duellings.

The advantage of the lottier houses, according to the builders, is that they can provide more domestic living space on small lots and are more practical to build for families with several children who need or prefer four bedrooms.

This possible revival in prestige for the two-story house will take many comparative "oldsters" back to the days when a child was under-privileged if he didn't live in a house with an attic and a cellar to explore -and a banister to slide down. Post-Crescent Food Editor

What do food editors do when they gather for a conference in a big city such as New York? Sightseeing, shopping and entertainment may be on the agenda but one thing is sure . . . they eat and do it royally. News from the conference being held this week in New York proves the point that frequently a busman's holiday can be an exciting adventure.

Food associations, processors and other related firms played host all week with breakfasts, luncheons and dinners set in an international pattern.

Editors dined on Marinated Steak, barbecued in the Argentine style. in the Jade and Basildon rooms at the famous Waldorf Astoria Hotel . . . they ate at the exclusive Nippon Club where the food, decor and entertainment were geared to the Oriental theme and two of the splendid foods served were Japanese Egg Roll and Mushroom-Tuna hors d'oeuvres . . . the United States was represented at a special Popover breakfast . . . Curry Tahiti was served at a 'round-the-world food event . . . and specialties from South Africa at an international luncheon included a lamb and curry casserole called Babotie and a familiar dish from the Durban area in Natal, Green Mealie Pudding.

These are but a few of the delicious foods featured at conference dining . . . and here are the recipes for them. Barbecue Steak

Some of the Symbols which have come to mean Lawrence College are collected within an "L" monogram appearing in the lobby of the administration building. The central object is the walnut carved president's chair, used as a library chair by Amos A Lawrence during the years he wrote the letters which caused the college's founding. On the chair seat is a Lawrence academic hood, given to advanced degree winners and honorary alumni; left to right on the floor are the official college crest (in frame), a mug bearing the college seal; a copy of the official college songs; a wooden interpretation of the circular seal; and the omnipresent sweatshirt beloved of collegians of both sexes.

$189,800 to Help For Genetics Labs

The University of Wisconsin today announced a grant of $189.800, completing the amount of money required to construct and equip a new building for genetics research.

The grant from Campbell Soup Co., Camden, N. J., will be used to equip the new five-story building, estimated to cost $1,680,000. Other funds for the building were pledged from the National Institutes of Health and the Wisconsin Alumni Research Founda-

Prompted By Quality

"The award was prompted, in part, by the high quality of work in the field of genetics performed at the University of Wisconsin" Campbell Soup Co. said.

William Beverly Murphy, an alumnus of Appleton High School and the UW, is president of Campbell Soup Co.

"Modern genetics research has reached the point where we require many of the research facilities commonly employed by bacteriologists, biochemists, and physical chemists," said Prof. M. R. Irwin, chairman of the GREEN BAY - Gov. Edmund Muskie has dismissed any suggestion that Sen. Lyndon Johnson is a drag on the Democratic ticket because of public identification of Henry Cabot Lodge with the primary issue of foreign affairs in the campaign.

Muskie, the Maine Democrat who made national news in 1954 by being elected in the previously rock-ribbed Republican state. stopped in Green Bay for a press conference to start a day of campaigning in Wisconsin. Muskie traveled with Milo Singler. Democratic congressional candidate. through Kewaunee and Manitowoc Counties before appearances in Sheboygan and Milwau-

Muskie was asked the question about the two vice-presidential nominees because of polls which show Lodge has more personal popularity than Johnson and the two candidates for president.

"I would not say that Johnson is a drag at all in New England. I think he is recognized as the greatest majority leader in the history of the Senate," he said.

"I don't think it can be documented that the decision has ever been made on the basis of vicepresidential candidates. The choice is between the two candidates for president.

Colts' Great Personnel Is Big Challenge

Lombardi Observes Baltimore Can Score From Anywhere

By ART DALEY

GREEN BAY-Like the coach was saying before practice the

"They can score from anythere—80, 60 or 20 yards away; it doesn't make any difference. Their defense? Those defensive backs are all fast: so are the linebackers. That line is extremely tough."

Vince Lombardi was talking about the Colts, who happen to be the Packers' opponent at City Stadium Sunday.

New Weapon Lombardi is leading the Packers this "Colt Week" with extra special enthusiasm because the Packers unveiled a crushing running attack in downing the Detroit Lions, 28-9, last Sunday. He's sporting a new weapon now to go with the club's already proven passing attack.

But the thought of the world champion Colts is enough to sober any and all coaches. Lombardi and aides Phil Bengston. Norb Hecker, Bill Austin and "Red" Cochran-plus the entire squad, like the idea, the challenge involved in Sunday's game.

The big reason is that the Colts are the league's two-time champions. They are the best. If the Packers or any other team want to take the Colts' place they must beat them.

So what do you know about the Colts? Let's skim over the club: Seventh Season

Backyard Badminton Set Uses Old Blanket for Net

By CHIC YOUNG BY CAPPY DICK

Whether your backvard is small or big, bordered by high fences or; is a wooded place in the suburbs, you can make a badminton court there. There will be no danger of breaking windows and, although the equipment is homemade, you will enjoy the game just as much as you would if you had the official set.

For a net, throw an old blanket over the clothesline in about the center of your yard. The homemade shuttlecock, shown in Figure 1, must be batted over the blanket to score.

Try these speedy budget-wise ideas with Natural Cheese...

Cheese adds new zest to popular Corned Beef 'N Vegetable Dinner. Flavored with tangy Provolone Cheese and topped with rich Cheddar sauce. High in protein, too.

Preheated 325° oven

horseradish

and carrots

2 cups (1-lb. can)

1 teaspoon prepared

1 package frozen peas

small, boiled onions

CHEESE CORNED BEEF 'N VEGETABLE DINNER

Buttered ring mold, 5½ cups 1½ cups shredded

- Provolone Cheese 2 1-pound cans corned beef hash
- 2 eggs, slightly beaten

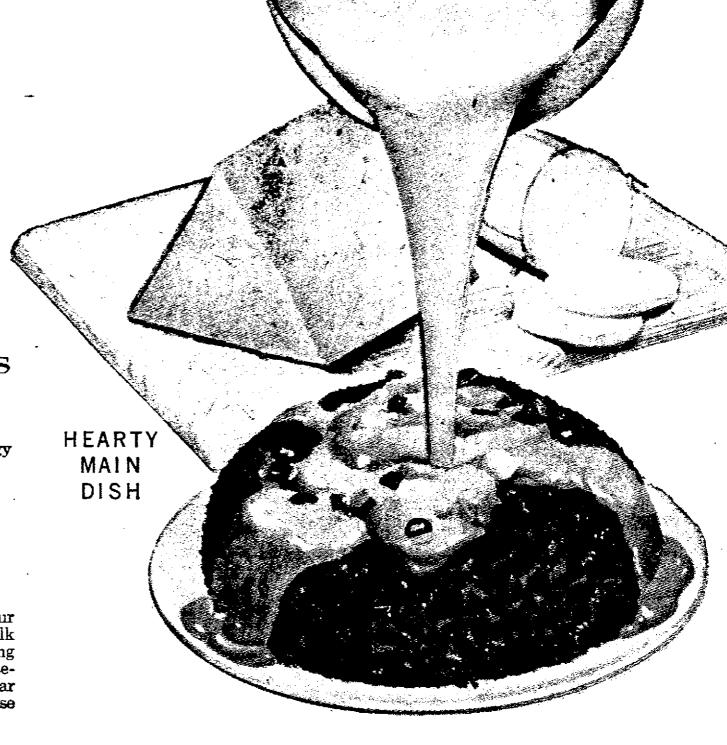

Mix Cheese, corned beef hash, eggs, horseradish. Spoon into ring mold; bake 45 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes; then turn onto warm plate. Fill center with cooked, drained vegetables. Pour Cheddar Cheese Sauce* over all.

*CHEDDAR CHEESE SAUCE:

- ½ cup (½ stick) Butter ½ cup flour

- 1 teaspoon salt 2 cups Milk 3 cups shredded sharp Cheddar Cheese

Melt Butter and blend in flour and salt. Gradually add Milk and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Remove from heat, add Cheddar Cheese and stir until Cheese melts.

DEUTSCH CHEESEBURGER

1 serving

A stroke of genius! Cheddar and Swiss flavors are blended with sauerkraut in this quick-to-fix sandwich.

Butter, softened

- 1 thick slice pumpernickel bread Canned sauerkraut
- 2 thin slices salami
- 1 thick slice Swiss Cheese 1 thick slice Cheddar Cheese
- 1 apple cube
- 1 green pepper cube

Butter bread; fork on sauerkraut, then top with 1 slice of salami, Swiss Cheese, another slice of salami, and finally Cheddar Cheese. Heat under broiler just enough to melt Cheese slightly. Garnish with green pepper and apple cubes on wooden pick. Serve immediately!

CHEESE TRAY WITH FRESH FRUIT

Cheese 'n Fruit . . . colorful, delicious for dessert or snack. Here you see from left to right smoky-tasting Provolone, rich Camembert, mild Brick, tangy Cheddar, mellow Gouda, sharp Blue and nut-like Swiss. All tempting ... all high in protein. Why not serve Cheese 'n Fruit in your home soon?
